

THE MUNSON MAIL.

Vol. 5, No. 23

MUNSON, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, AUG. 17, 1916

G. C. DUNCAN, PUBLISHER

Public Sale

Having rented his farm, I have been instructed by Peter Hanson to sell by Public Auction at his farm the

S. E. Sec. 12-31-21, W. 4th

Four miles west of Morrin

Horses, Cattle, Machinery and Household Effects

— on —

MONDAY, AUG. 21

15 HEAD OF HORSES

Team bay geldings, 6 and 8 yrs., old, weight 2800 lbs.
Team: bay gelding 7 yrs., wt. 1300, mare 6 yrs., wt. 1250
Team: grey gelding 7 yrs., old, mare, 6 yrs., 10 years old, wt. 2700
Team: black gelding 4 yrs., old, wt. 1400, brown mare 5 yrs., 1300
One black mare, 4 yrs., old, wt. 1300
One black mare, 2 yrs., old, wt. 1100
One bay mare, 4 yrs., old, wt. 1100
One buckskin yearling filly
One black mare, mated with colt at foot
One sorrel mare with colt at foot

25 HEAD OF CATTLE

One Shorthorn bull 4 yrs., old
Seven milch cows, 4 to 10 yrs.
Two heifers with calves at foot
Seven calves

One heifer, springing
Three steers 2 yrs., old
Two steers 1 yr., old
Ten young Turkeys

HOGS AND POULTRY

One sow and 21 spring pigs
Two Turkey hens

Forty hens (1 yr) 35 chicks

Ten young Turkeys

Fifteen turkeys

Twenty turkeys

<p

The White Frock With Color Touches

Embroidery Touches on Organdie

THIS is surely the era of feminine frocks—that is, if one wants to wear them—for one can be just as tailored as one chooses in the mornings, but in the afternoon and evening one can blossom forth with ruffles and lace and embroidery galore. It is a noticeable fact that the solid white frock without any relieving color touch is rather the exception than the rule in these fluffy-ruffle styles.

Take the frock composed almost entirely of ruffles. It is organdie upon white net, each tiny organdie ruffle edged with a picoted ruffle of lavender organdie, caught in the stitching of the larger white one. The sash is a deep violet velvet to carry out the pastel color scheme.

A pretty way to treat net is to cover the cords which are used for flaring the flounces with a colored silk before they are run thru the net casings. In the three-tiered skirt frock this method had been successfully followed. The generous bertha is corded also, and the sleeve ruffles are finished in the same manner. The brocaded sash is corn color to match the cordings.

Net and organdie have been combined to make the fetching little evening frock whose color touches rely on the blue embroidery on the points of the skirt and the bodice. This is a bought flouncing of organdie, while the picoted ruffle which follows the pointed edge is white net. The corded chemisette is net also. A pretty contrasting note is sounded with the pink roses scattered over the skirt and holding the bertha at the center front. The pleated ruffles at the hip line and on the underskirt are of soft blue ribbon.

Just lace-edged ruffles are used to make another organdie frock attractive. The application of these ruffles in undulating lines gives the frock a fluffier appearance still. The color note is supplied with the green faille girdle and sash ends of ribbon.

A dear little frock, which is hardly fluffy but delightfully feminine, is made from a very fine French voile. Alternate skirt panels are tucked and the others are embroidered with a deep pink silk. All are lace-edged. A yoke which extends up in points on the soft bodice is also embroidered, and the deep shoulder which extends into the sleeves shows more of the delicate pink stitching.

A Pleasing Use of Lace-Edged Ruffles

LADY :: URSULA'S HUSBAND

FLORENCE WARDEN
Ward, Lock & Co., Limited TORONTO

(Continued)

Evans demurred at having to leave without the pearls, which he was afraid would be taken as a sign that he understood the necessity for caution in dealing with such a determined spy. He inhaled deeply, then grumbled, after making a fresh appointment for the delivery of the pearls. "I am sorry," he said, "but I must say that, as soon as Lord Eastling should have followed Evans out of the room, he would have entered into conversation with his son. Paul should ship out directly to India, and I will see him off at the Westminster, where Gane would be waiting."

This matter arranged, the two parted with just enough noise to rouse Lord Eastling, who, after a brief walk along the corridor, whistled softly, expecting every moment to have his young viscountess laid upon his shoulders.

But the young man whom he looked upon as a fool was not so simple as he had been made out to be.

"Lord Eastling, go to your room," said Paul, "and if I do not call you after an hour, whether his confinement has been a failure?"

But the young man whom he looked upon as a fool was not so simple as he had been made out to be.

"All right," said Lord Eastling good-humoredly, "I'll wait an hour." And he had gone the length of the corridor.

Startled, Paul turned and found his brother-in-law smiling at him rather grimly.

"You've forgotten me, Payne?" he said. "We'll stick together to the end. Where are you going?"

"Back to bed," he said, as with a violent jerk, he threw off the viscous coat.

"All right," said Lord Eastling good-humoredly, "I'll wait an hour." And he had gone the length of the corridor.

Startled, Paul turned and found his brother-in-law smiling at him rather grimly.

"You've forgotten me, Payne?" he said. "We'll stick together to the end. Where are you going?"

Lady Emmeline could not help smiling at the discovery that she had to make her appearance at Oare Court without her brother.

It was known at Winterhead how very much she enjoyed her stay with her mother and sister, or to give more than a sketchy and casual description of the life led at that particular country house.

In the same year had told her sister, indeed, that it was just the sort of country house where those things, which were to be expected on the occasion of a millionaire's bankruptcy might conceivably happen.

The winter of 1915-16 was to say, was no means high, and Lady Emmeline, being, although younger than her mother, equally fond of ant and sun, she, recognized the fact at once.

But then there were compensating advantages, and Lady Emmeline admitted that she was very fond of the weather when she drew up to the door with her maid, Hugo, in his long, smoking a cigarette outside the great front door, which was in the Elizabethan style.

Hugo, in his turn, was very fond of the weather when she drew up to the door with her maid.

Hugo, in his turn, was very fond of the weather when she drew up to the door with her maid.

"Awwfully glad," said Hugo. "We're bound to come to work that Tom was on about pushing electors into other seats, and getting them off the poll, and that I was to spend my time bribing—No, I'm not a briber, but I'm a snuff, and little boys and girls, and puppies, and dolls, so that their fathers' backs are turned in the right Tory direction."

Hugo waved his hand magnificently. "The Radicals said they had ed meemores of prehistoric Radicals."

"Did there any prehistoric Radicals?"

"I think there may have been. Are we not taught that in the days of the early Christians, the church did not repress the protest and instructed the people to be like the clergyman who had to kiss the bride?"

"I've got to say that the world was full of fearfulness."

"Only you're not so liberal as to deny any sort of right to the other side."

The two went up to the steps, and were crossing the great brand-new medieval hall at a leisurely pace, when they took hard as they went. "No," said he magnificently, "I don't deny that the Radicals may be honest when they're poor. It's year rich Radical who seems to me such a humbug."

"The score of a hypocrite than the poor Conservative? He may be poor, but I see that it isn't worth while upsetting things for the off-chance that you may lose what little you've got instead. But I can't understand anyone that has got all he wants, and who tries to win discontent among those that never expect to have much more. It's an artificial product the rich have."

Lady Emmeline listened, and meanwhile was gazing into the morning-room, where a bright fire was burning, and Hugo invited her to sit down by the window, and look out at the horses' heads, and the riders' horses.

Then she returned to politics. "I want to hear, you say that?" she said. "Do you know I was that?"

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "You mean, because my father is a Radical?"

"I thought it possible. At any rate, I suppose you know."

"A Radical once," said Hugo. "Socialism: in fact he was the whole logic, but now, well, of course it's different, he allows them to be smothered, but you see?"

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

"I suppose you know," said Hugo. "I've got a brother, and he's a Radical."

TERMS OF PEACE

American Paper Comments on Opinion Expressed by Lord Bryce

No Englishman has a higher place in the esteem of the American public than Lord Bryce, and his statement that a permanent peace will be based on consent to a permanent peace will have greater weight with many than the most ardent advocates of war.

Speaking at a luncheon in London in honor of James M. Beck, Ambassador to America, a dinner dress, signed by some Americans, a large proportion of whom had come to have a seat at the head of the table, Lord Bryce said: "The war must end in a draw, it was best to make peace at once."

The Times is not novel; it has been put forth, though in a somewhat unusual form.

Lord Bryce pointed out, neither the war nor the peace will be lasting.

The war is not in the least likely to end in a draw.

The allies have made no secret of their wishes.

They are bound to fight on either a victory or a draw.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the war nor the peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

Lord Bryce

pointed out, neither the

war nor the

peace will be

lasting.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

Valuable Work Done by the Boy Scouts in Connection with the War

It has been no small part that the Boy Scouts have played in this war, digging dugouts, they have a fine record of useful and spirited service, and men have risked their dangers at times of stress and strain will long be remembered.

Boy Scouts in England

wheeling trolleys, and helping to

the enormous mass of supplies sent overland by the British Army.

As far as possible, the work

of the Boy Scouts

is to assist the army in every possible way.

It is the Boy Scouts

of America that are

most active in the field.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Germany.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in France.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Italy.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Russia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Canada.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Australia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in South Africa.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in New Zealand.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in South America.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Central America.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Mexico.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Japan.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work in China.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in India.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Australia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Canada.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in South Africa.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

MECCA'S STONE OF TEARS

Tradition Says It Was Once Pure White, But Is Now Black

From Many Years

It has been no small part that the Boy Scouts have played in this war, digging dugouts, they have a fine record of useful and spirited service, and men have risked their dangers at times of stress and strain will long be remembered.

Boy Scouts in England

wheeling trolleys, and helping to

the enormous mass of supplies sent

overland by the British Army.

As far as possible, the work

of the Boy Scouts

is to assist the army in every possible way.

The Boy Scouts

of America that are

most active in the field.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Germany.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in France.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Italy.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Russia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Canada.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Australia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in South Africa.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Central America.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Mexico.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Japan.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in India.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Australia.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Canada.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in South Africa.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Central America.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Mexico.

The American Boy Scouts

have done a great deal of work

in Japan.

THUNDERSTORMS AND MILK

Lowering of Atmospheric Pressure Believed to be One Cause of Milk Turning Sour

It is common knowledge that milk is liable to sour and curdle more easily during bad weather than in normal weather.

Various theories have been advanced as to the cause of this, but one has suggested that the pressure of the atmosphere on the surface of the milk retards the fermentation of souring agents.

The cryogenics of the sun's influence is the only difference between the day and night temperatures.

On the other hand, the temperature of the sun's influence is the same throughout the day.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. G. M. GIBSON, M. D. C. M.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON
PROVINCIAL CORoner

MUNSON - - - ALBERTA

A. J. LAWRENCE, B. A. L. L. B.
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, NOTARY

Money to loan Insurance

Munson - - - Alberta

J. H. MACINTYRE
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.

Drumheller - - - Alberta

WATCHMAKER

C. A. RICHARDSON
Watchmaker and Optician

Will be at Dr. Gibson's Drug Store Tuesday of each week.

List your sales with the
HIGHLAND AUCTIONEER

P. BATSON

Delin - - - Alberta

Before making dates, see the
MUNSON AUCTIONEER

W. H. DALY

Munson - - - Alberta

"Now I'm happy! I've got a parcel from home through the Overseas Club, but don't wish there was one every week!"

Help the boys in the trenches by contributing 25¢ to the MAIL Tobacco Fund

SAVE YOUR MONEY
FOR THE

DOMINION WAR LOAN

TO BE ISSUED IN SEPTEMBER.

By purchasing a bond you will help to WIN THE WAR and obtain for yourself an investment of the highest class yielding a most attractive rate of interest.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
OTTAWA.

NOTICE

In the Matter of the Court of Confirmation of the Tax Enforcement Return of the Rural Municipality of Starland No. 307.
J. H. MacIntyre, Judge of the District Court of the District of Calgary, has appointed Tuesday, the 5th day of September, 1916, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at Plaintiff's Inn, the Room of Honor, the holding of the Court of Confirmation to confirm the Tax Enforcement Return of the Rural Municipality of Starland No. 307.

Dated the 4th day of July, 1916.
W. F. Richardson,
Secretary-Treasurer.

PRINTER WANTED—Compositor with two or three years' experience. Apply at once to the Mail, Munson, Alta.

FARMERS

who wish to borrow money to the last expense should apply direct to the Credit Union Co., Corner of 10th Avenue and Third Street, Edmonton. For many years this Company has granted loans on the amortization plan, which has recently been greatly enlarged, for a term of 10, 15, or 20 years. Those who wish a loan for 5 years may have it at 8%. By applying direct, the expense of the loan may be kept to a legal minimum. Application will be provided on applying to G. H. Gowen, Manager, Edmonton.

C. F. Heitl and wife of Frome, Ont., are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Nicol at Clystie.

R. S. Bronson and wife of Drumheller, attended the Fair here and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carnithers, returning today.

"Slim" McEacheron returned Wednesday from a six week's vacation at Winnipeg and Coast cities and has resumed his duties at the C. N. R. Station.

Two troop trains of 16 coaches each passed through town on Monday with the 127th Battalion. Several of the boys from Munson are members in this battalion.

The following students passed their Grade VIII, examination: Mary Horne of White Star School and Violet Deeprose of Sunbeam School.

C. R. Sinclair of Mecheche, was a caller in town today. Mr. Sinclair has rented his farm for a term of years and expects to leave the district in a few weeks time.

A dicing "bee" will be held for Mr. McMillan on See, 12:30-20, 2½ miles east and ½ mile south of town on Tuesday, Aug. 22. Farmers come and bring your dices and lunch.

A. M. Vallery and family, accompanied by Miss Clark and Mrs. Turnbull, motored to the Delta Fair on Tuesday. Mrs. Vallery and Miss Clark acted as judges for Domestic products, Fancy Work etc.

Eimer Daly is doing considerable improvements on his farm east of Morrisin, a section purchased at the school land sale. He expects to begin residence on his new farm at an early date.

This is a busy time for the implement dealers who are working overtime setting up binders and other machinery and taking delivery of binder orders. Dealers say that the demand for binders this season exceeds that of any previous year.

The following boys is khaki, went up from Calgary for the fair and visited for a few days. Pte. G. Stirling, Pte. T. Trahan, Pte. Pte. G. Gilkes, Corp. A. J. Biggs, Corp. Pte. J. Tarr, Pte. Joy States, Pte. J. Ewing, Pte. Currie and Pte. Macdonald of 187th.

We have received a letter from the Calgary Herald asking us to open a subscription list for the Herald Tobacco Fund in connection with the Mail. The list is now open at this office and all contributions will be gratefully received and acknowledged in the Herald and in the Mail. 25¢ will supply one soldier with 50 cigarettes or 1-5th lbs. of tobacco. The cigarettes and tobacco are manufactured "in Canada." The boys in the trenches will appreciate such a gift.

THE LOCAL ROUND-UP

T. H. Hough spent a few days in Calgary returning Monday.

Don't forget P. Hanson's big auction sale on Monday next.

Sgt. Hall of the 187th is spending a few days here.

P. Pervost returned Monday after a 2 weeks vacation spent at Calgary and Banff.

Mrs. Leiper returned to this district Saturday after a few weeks' vacation.

W. F. Boyle was a visitor in Hanna over Sunday. What's the attraction, Freddie?

Mrs. D. H. McDermid returned on Sunday night from and extended visit at the coast.

Mrs. Hugh Skinner and little boy Grant, left Saturday for a few days visit in Calgary.

Editor P. of the Drumheller Review, and family attended the fair here on Wednesday.

Born—On Thursday, August 10, 1916, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Brinson of Rumsey, a girl.

Mrs. Hunter of Drumheller came up on Wednesday and acted as one of the judges for Domestic Products etc. at the Fair.

C. F. Heitl and wife of Frome, Ont., are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Nicol at Clystie.

R. S. Bronson and wife of Drumheller, attended the Fair here and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carnithers, returning today.

"Slim" McEacheron returned Wednesday from a six week's vacation at Winnipeg and Coast cities and has resumed his duties at the C. N. R. Station.

Two troop trains of 16 coaches each passed through town on Monday with the 127th Battalion. Several of the boys from Munson are members in this battalion.

The following students passed their Grade VIII, examination: Mary Horne of White Star School and Violet Deeprose of Sunbeam School.

C. R. Sinclair of Mecheche, was a caller in town today. Mr. Sinclair has rented his farm for a term of years and expects to leave the district in a few weeks time.

A dicing "bee" will be held for Mr. McMillan on See, 12:30-20, 2½ miles east and ½ mile south of town on Tuesday, Aug. 22. Farmers come and bring your dices and lunch.

A. M. Vallery and family, accompanied by Miss Clark and Mrs. Turnbull, motored to the Delta Fair on Tuesday. Mrs. Vallery and Miss Clark acted as judges for Domestic products, Fancy Work etc.

Eimer Daly is doing considerable improvements on his farm east of Morrisin, a section purchased at the school land sale. He expects to begin residence on his new farm at an early date.

This is a busy time for the implement dealers who are working overtime setting up binders and other machinery and taking delivery of binder orders. Dealers say that the demand for binders this season exceeds that of any previous year.

The following boys is khaki, went up from Calgary for the fair and visited for a few days. Pte. G. Stirling, Pte. T. Trahan, Pte. Pte. G. Gilkes, Corp. A. J. Biggs, Corp. Pte. J. Tarr, Pte. Joy States, Pte. J. Ewing, Pte. Currie and Pte. Macdonald of 187th.

We have received a letter from the Calgary Herald asking us to open a subscription list for the Herald Tobacco Fund in connection with the Mail. The list is now open at this office and all contributions will be gratefully received and acknowledged in the Herald and in the Mail. 25¢ will supply one soldier with 50 cigarettes or 1-5th lbs. of tobacco. The cigarettes and tobacco are manufactured "in Canada." The boys in the trenches will appreciate such a gift.

Tribute to Munson Hero

The following letter was received by Geo. Horns from G. C. Fallis, Chaplin, which is a tribute to his son, Fred, who was killed in action:

June 10, 1916

My Dear Friends,—

You will have heard before this reaches you of the death of your dear one in the big battle that has just closed. A good many of our gallant heroes fell and yours was amongst them. He was killed in action and died with his face to the foe. These are dark days for many individuals but in the night of death he sees a star and listening long he hear the rustle of wings. Out of the dark are beams of light.

First of all he died in a great cause. The cause of righteousness, truth and final triumph was his side and for that cause he gave up his life. And again he did not die as a coward letting the issue go by default, but he died a hero fighting fearful odds of shot and shell. He laid down his life for his friends. Jesus said, "Greater love hath no man than that a man lay down his life for his friends." Your loved one has actually done this very thing. He really laid down his life for others, I believe he has fulfilled the law of Love and I am sure that our Father will crown his valour and self sacrifice in Immanuel Land. Jesus said, "In my Father's house are many mansions" and I am sure he has one.

He was buried lovingly by the kind hands of his comrades and his spirit has gone to the Homeland. He died not alone but with hundreds of his fellows in one of the biggest fights the Canadians have ever been in before. May your Father bless you and give you strength to sustain you in this sad hour. Faithfully yours,

Geo. C. Fallis

Chaplin

ROWLEY NEWS

Despite the inclement weather on the evening of the entertainment on Aug. 8th, given by the Ladies Aid, quite a number turned out and a very pleasant evening was spent. Miss Snyder of Calgary, the elocutionist engaged was appreciated to the full extent. Many selections were given by Bob and Wm. McIlvride. The dance followed also a pleasant event, music being donated in favor of the Red Cross by Messrs. McIlvrides and Baldwin. The proceeds of the evening were about $36.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Yorke, Thursday, Aug. 10th. A few members of the Delta Turned, members of the Sunshine club who were present and a very enjoyable time was spent. The officers for the ensuing year are: Hon. Pres. Mrs. McIlvride; Pres., Mrs. McFarlane; Vice-President, Mrs. McFarlane; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. A. M. Richardson.

The Red Cross Sewing done by the society in the past 6 months consists of 678 bandages, 32 pillow cases, 24 surgical shirts, 11 suits of pyjamas and 4 utility bags.

A very impressive sermon was preached to the Rowley congregation Sunday morning by the Rev. Marr, representative of the British Home and Foreign Bible Society. A branch was formed with our pastor, Mr. York, as president and Mrs. M. MacFarlane as Secretary.

Mr. Heart of Midland, Ont., is visiting his nephews C. H. and W. F. Richardson.

Wanted

APPRENTICE WANTED—Boy to learn the printing trade. Apply at the Mail Office.

For Sale

FOR SALE—One used six-horse power horizontal international Harvester Co.'s stationary engine. Terms arranged for suitable party. Apply at once to T. R. Hughes, Munson, Alberta.

Fair week Specials

Old English Grey Graniteware

1500 Pieces to choose from—Best value we ever had

Boots and Shoes

12 pairs only, regular tan Military boots sold everywhere for $7, Fair week price $6 To fully understand the value ask to see these goods
24 pairs Men's Kip lace boots. sold everywhere for $4.50, we will sell 24 pairs during Fair week at $3.50

Flavoring Extracts

Usual 25c size, best quality, now selling at 2 for 25c

HATS

We have a large stock of Men's Felt and Straw Hats which have to go. Call and examine them and get our prices.

Leather Gloves

Exceptional values—very large stock to choose from

McConkey & Bowey

HITCH UP

TO A

Deering or McCormick

Binder

When you harvest this year's crop if you want a durable, light running and correctly constructed machine.

Call and see the latest departure in Tongue Trucks which make it easy to turn the machine. You will like it.

W. B. WALROD

Munson Alberta

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS
IN THE "MAIL"—IT PAYS

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I am adding a large shipment to the well assorted stock of Skinner Bros. just purchased. Every effort will be made to meet your requirements in the hardware line

CALL IN AND GET ACQUAINTED

JAS. MCLEOD - Munson

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE MAIL $1.00 A YEAR